

AMERICREDIT HEADQUARTERS

FORT WORTH, TX, USA

CORPORATE

BACNET STAR

AmeriCredit is the largest independent middle-market auto finance company in North America. Using its branch network and alliances with auto groups and banks, the company provides auto loans to customers who are typically unable to obtain financing from traditional sources. Built in 1992, the AmeriCredit corporate headquarters in Fort Worth, Texas is one of first BACnet-integrated projects in the Lone Star state.

PROJECT DETAILS

The AmeriCredit Fort Worth complex consists of two 300,000 square foot buildings, each with a dedicated mechanical system consisting of twenty large air handling units supplying approximately 175 MACH-Air™ VAV controllers. Some twenty Liebert computer room air conditioning units are integrated into the building automation system using Modbus protocol, and four 400-tonne Carrier chillers are integrated using BACnet® protocol. The system has full alarm paging capabilities.
